REMEMBER!

The Past Continuous Tense is used to describe past actions that lasted for some time.

Use the Past Continuous to describe:

- an action that was taking place at a specific time in the past
At 10 pm last night Jill was telling her mother about her day at school.
Around 11 pm she was getting ready for bed. At 12 pm she was sleeping.
- a background scene of a story
It was snowing outside and everyone in the house was sleeping.
The sun was shining, but the wind was blowing. The kids were listening to the teacher. Suddenly ...
- actions that were taking place at the same time in the past
While the teacher was reading, the students were sending text messages to each other.
While I was talking, the others were listening.
While their dad was driving, the children were sleeping in the back seat.

We form the Past Continuous Tense with the Past Simple of the verb 'to be' (was / were) + the -ing form of the verb.
