Lviv

Lviv is often called "little Paris". It is a very poetic city with delicate architecture and narrow medieval streets full of ancient legends. It was founded by Prince Danylo of Halych. It was first mentioned in 1256. The population is 806 000 people. Ploshcha Rynok is one of the main Lviv attractions. The central structure in the square is the Town Hall with a tower and four fountains at the corners decorated with the statues of Neptune, Diana, Adonis and Amphitrita. 44 buildings create the unique atmosphere of the square. Venetian House is called so because in the 17th century it belonged to the Consul of Venice. Look around and you will see many lions in the square. It is the symbol of the city, which was named after the son of Danylo Halytsky Leo.

LVIV — FLORENCE OF EASTERN EUROPE

750 year-old Lviv is one of the oldest cities in Ukraine and the most peculiar in its historical development. The city is situated on the hills of the Roztochya Natural Reserve where the main European watershed lies. For its geographical position and historical tradition Lviv was meant to play a significant part in the life of Central and Eastern Europe.

Lviv with its 830 000 inhabitants, mostly Ukrainians, occupies the territory of 155 sq km. The city is an important trade, educational, scientific and cultural centre. Foreign investment into this region is growing rapidly. Modern Lviv is a stunning urban panorama, splendid mix of different national traditions, hectic business life and open-hearted hospitality.

SIGHTS OF LVIV

The uniqueness of the city was formed under the influence of Mediterranean humanism between East and West. The central part of Lviv became a historical-architectural preserve and in 1998 was included into the UNESCO List of the World Heritage Sites. Lviv boasts about 2 000 historical, architectural and cultural monuments. The city centre is located in a place which is picturesquely surrounded by seven hills. Architectural masterpieces are framed by fresh greenery of the numerous parks. The inimitable
